A TRANSPARENT GAME. Concern Which Claims Ownership

Lands in This Section. The New York Sun exposes a gang of sharpers who claim to own a tract of nine thousand acres of land in Howard, Anne Arundel and Prince George's counties, Maryland, and who call themselves "The New York and Baltimore and and Improvement Company."

They publish the following advertise-"Why keep your money in the savings banks and receive 4 per cent. interest per annum when you can get 7 per cent by buying the ten-year bonds of he New York and Baltimore Land and Improvement Company, and receive a perfect title to a 101 of ground, 50x159 feet, of the lands of the company as above, situated half way between Baltimore and Washington?

These seven per cent. bonds were called debenture certificates and were to run ten years. On their face was the following statement:

"This certificate is one of twenty thousand certificates of one hundred dollars each, amounting in all to two million dollars, issued by the above named company on its lands in Maryland, valued at three million of dollars.

"The above company guarantees to the bearer thereof the principal of these certificates and interest on the same at seven per cent per annum, payable semiannually, on the first day of January and July of each year, and principal and interest on the first day of January, 1902, at the office of the treasurer, in the City of New York, and likewise entitle the bearer hereof to one lot on the company's lands, 50x150. "The above-named company, however, reserves the right to redeem any or all of these certificates on or after January,

Upon the face of the bonds also appeared the following: "Incorporated under the laws of Maryland, 1892."

The New York Sun says there is no record of such incorporation in any of the counties named, in Baltimore, or in the office of the Secretary of State at Annapolis. The Sun's statement is based upon searches made in the record offices of the three counties named and there is further no evidence of possession of the land claimed in the name of the "New York and Baltimore Land and Improvement Company" or of any of the parties whose names appear as president, treasurer and secretary, respectiveare Henry A. Services on Easter Sunday-Catholics and Protestants Attend. Poplar Springs, April 20.-In order to a commodate the large congregation on Easter Sunday, it was necessary to hold two services in St. Michael's Church. The first mass was Father William Gannon celebrated the late mass and preached a beautiful serm in on the Resurrection. The ground-work of the sermo was to strict that the Resurrection was the corner-stone of Catholi ity, Christianity being true only because founded by God, and Christ proved His divinity by the miracle of the Resurrection. Catholics and Protestants were pleased with the sermon.

From now oe, there will be service in St. Michael's Church every Sunday. On the first and third Sundays of the month there will be mass at the usual hour. On the other Sundays, at half past two o'clock, Sunday school classes will be held uncer the direction of Rev. Mr. Cassilly and Rev. Mr. Pete. O'Carroil. During the next three months instructions will be given by Rev. Mr. Cassilly on the Ten Commandments.
